[EDITORIAL]

The attempt of Fulton J. Redman, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, to ride into power under the mantle of Franklin D. Roosevelt is so obvious that anyone untutored in politics can readily see through it. "We must show the country and the world that in war Maine goes for Roosevelt," Redman told an Augusta audience the other day. But while the people of Maine Sept. 14 will not be voting for President, they will be voting to send to Congress a man who has given him the most loyal support on war measures, and that is the man Fulton Redman is endeavoring to unseat—the man who has given such a good account of himself in the upper branch of the National Legislature—U. S. Senator Wallace H. White, Jr. The voters of Maine know where he stands, and it is good enough for them.

GANDHI
MIXUP

Just exactly what kind of a mess the British have gotten themselves into through the arrest of Mohandas K. Gandhi and his crew remains to be seen. From the standpoint of strategy it may have been a clever coup to nail the little freak before he can do any further damage to the cause of India, but on the other hand it has very plainly made a martyr out of him in the eyes of the fanatics who believe in his absurd theories, and the strikes and disorders which are now paramount there are but the sequel which the arrests might have been expected to produce. India is a vast, strange and powerful country whose adherence to the Allied Nations' cause would mean much, but whose alienation from it would be disastrous in the extreme. The diplomats have found it tough picking, and the world wonders what would be the result if England had granted it full independence at this time.

We hear a great deal about the "second front," and those who sympathize with

WHAT ABOUT SECOND FRONT? Russia's desperate plight are impatient, perhaps exasperated, to think that help from the Allied Nations is not forthcoming, pronto. But it cannot for a moment be assured that the leaders and strategists of the Allied Nations have not given the matter thorough consideration. There's a homely old saying that fools rush in where angels fear to tread, and that might be the case with the Allied Nations if they undertook to cash in on Germany's apparent helplessness on the home field. The leaders have pointed out that a debacle at this time would be a death blow to the Allies. They may have planned things which will yield results—and soon—but we cannot be blamed for thinking that it's precious near time we got a-going, if we are really going anywhere.

RETREAT, DEFEAT, ACTION

Commenting upon the present Solomon Islands offensive undertaken by our Navy the Herald-Tribune editorially says:

"The eight solid months of retreat, defeat and purely defensive strategy have been broken at last. Obviously one cannot pretend to predict the outcome of the action; still less may one begin to count the wide strategic gains to which a victory could lead. It is true that if our forces should secure a firm foothold in the Solomons it would alter the face of the Pacific war, but it might still cost many, painful months to reap the advantages of a success. At the moment the important thing is that, whether this American-Australian attack succeeds or fails, it is an attack; and the fact that it could be made alone reveals how far the strategic pattern in the Pacific has been shifting.

"The Battle of the Coral Sea blunted and turned the Japanese advance upon Australia; that led directly to the Battle of Midway, a great defensive victory for the United States, and now it is clearly as a result of the Battle of Midway, with its destruction of the major portion of the Japanese carrier fleet, that it has been possible to mount the present operation. Combining in one plan, as it does, the activities of forces as far apart as MacArthur's bombers in Port Moresby and naval vessels in the fogs of Kiska, it shows that our power in the Pacific is growing, is making its effectiveness felt and has been directed by a consistent and alert strategy. However this action may end it must at least go far toward dispelling that feeling of helpless frustration which so many Americans have been laboring under; the initiative is here in our hands, we are taking the risks and forcing the pace as the Japanese so long have done, and that is all the American public has asked. Once we bring an offensive power to bear, whatever the costs or setbacks, that spirit will not be relinquished, and the course of the war will not again be the same."

UNION FAIR IS CANCELLED

Union Fair is called off this year due to "present unsettled conditions," according to Clarence Leonard, president of the North Knox Fair Association, in an announcement made public Saturday, following a meeting of the Fair trustees.

It is with regret that Fair officials make such an announcement, but it is final. This year would make the 73d season for Union Fair, for which plans earlier in the year had been made for a four-day exhibition to open Aug. 25.

Several other Fair associations in the State came to this same decision earlier in the season, but on the other hand, several others will continue as usual.

KNOX COUNTY LEAGUE

Thomaston and Rockland Split Twin Bill—
Playing At Community Park Tonight

Tonight in Rockland, Thomaston and the Pirates will play again at 6 o'clock. Lives and Chuck Ellis will probably be the opposing hurlers and the fans will have a chance to see if brother Chuck can hold Thomaston as well as Raymie did last week.

Friday the Pirates play in Thomaston. Sunday both Camden and Thomaston will play in Rockland. At Community Park Friday night Thomaston and Rockland played a 1 to 0 six inning game.

Raymie Ellis, pitching the first time this year, had a duel with the Thomaston ace lives, each allowing but a single hit. Thomas, second man up in the first inning, got the Pirate hit with a line drive to left, while in the third Jenkins got another hit when he banged a grounder to Starr who was pulled out of position to cover second and the play to first was too late. Only one ball was hit to the outfield off Ellis.

The Pirates' run came in the last inning when Hodgkins walked, stole second, and was advanced to third when lives filled the bases with walks to Ray Ellis, and Thomas. Chuck Ellis then drove a long fly to Watts who stopped Hodgkins from scoring from third. Chuck Ellis teamed up with Raymie to make a brother batter, and caught a nice game. The Thomaston infield pulled off a coupe of fast double plays.

Thomaston split a double header at Thomaston Sunday before a good sized crowd which helped greatly to swell the Dana Sawyer fund. The Pirates won the first game with Newcombe allowing but six bingles and holding Thomaston to two runs while his mates were banging out nine hits for five runs.

Hodgkins, first man up for Rockland, started the scoring with a single and came home on singles by Hart and Thomas. Dick Barnard reached first on a walk, stole second and scored on Newcomb's single to right in the second inning.

Thomaston tied up the game in the seventh, when Felt singled and scored when after stealing second Fales singled to right and the peg from Hodgkins went over Hart's head, allowing Felt to reach home.

Republican Drive In Knox
County Will Take Place
August 19

Gov. Sumner Sewall and a group of leading Republicans will visit Knox county Wednesday, Aug. 19, it is announced by Lloyd B. Morton, chairman of the Maine Republican State Committee.

This is part of the streamlined GOP campaign, geared to 1942 conditions, and conducted with a minimum of expense and traveling consistent with the need to present to Republicans in each county the facts concerning the issues at stake in the coming September elections.

The Governor will be accompanied by United States Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., Margaret Chase Smith, member of the U. S. House of Representatives, Chairman Morton and Mrs. E. May Chapman, vice-chairman of the State committee.

"Every voter should be made familiar with the platform of the Maine Republicans," said Mr. Morton. "The number one plank of which the whole-hearted support of America's victory effort. In attaining this result, the platform states, party politics have no place."

Maine Republicans also urged upon Congress a reduction of all non-essential Government expenditures, measures for the prevention of profiteering and inflation.

The party goes on record as commending the "sound, economical and responsive administration of the State's business, under leadership of Governor Sewall. He is endorsed for his prompt building up of military and civilian defense, the enactment of liberal legislation, and his ability to keep State expenditures within the budget and to effect economies without curtailment of essential services.

"The affairs of Maine are being conducted in a sane, sensible manner," concluded Mr. Morton. "Our holders who have done this work should be retained. Republicans are helping and will continue to help win this war and afterwards to win the peace."

Dust From the Diamond

Skipper Hart, filling in as catcher for the Pirates, had a hand in defending his team with his two singles, besides receiving well. That Spear boy not only covers a lot of ground in center field but what a peg he uncorked to erase Thomas at third in the second game.

Two sparkling catches in one inning by Spear and Felt. It is hoped a good sized crowd will be at Rockland Sunday as Thomaston had a fine turnout at its double header.

The series between Thomaston and Rockland is about as even as the Camden-Rockland games of a few years back and any ball fan who hasn't seen these two teams play another has missed some excellent baseball 4-2, 5-2, 1-0 and 4-4 games indicate.

Chummy Gray looked natural in the center of the diamond, where in former years he has pitched so many fine games.

Kinney who filled in for the Pirates at short and first in the first game did a great job for his first time out this year, and the fans can expect to see more of this popular St. George boy.

Thomas sure guns that ball to first and although he uses an unorthodox throw generally gets the ball there.

Les Simpson arrived on the scene at a very opportune time, and drove in the two winning runs on the first ball pitched to him.

Ducky Drake was scheduled to pitch Sunday but caught his throwing hand in an ice machine and is out for at least a week.

If you meet Pat McAuliffe on the street today be sure to offer your congratulations, because it is his 77th birthday. Up every morning at 4 o'clock he is never happy until he embarks upon his day's work with the street department. Doesn't dare take a vacation for he believes that a man can rust out before he plays out. The sole survivor of the famous H. M. H. roller polo team doesn't know the meaning of an ache or a pain.

"Good pitching!" exclaimed Jim Britt, the Boston baseball broadcaster Saturday. A Brooklyn batter had just fled to the Boston centerfielder for the third out. It was a tremendous wallop, and had the ball gone 10 feet to the right or left of the fielder would have been an extra base hit. Yet the fact that it didn't do so was attributed to the skill of the Boston pitcher. I guess I don't quite understand that kind of reasoning.

The Sunday concerts given by the Tabernacle Chorus and Choir at Salt Lake City is being broadcast for its 14th consecutive year. It is presented Sundays between 12.30 and 1 over Station WEEI, and is a musical treat I never miss if I am in the vicinity of a radio.

A well known Rockland man will not leave his car engine running again while he is absent. He went to one of the island towns recently and was talking with a friend in an office when a young girl rushed in to say that somebody's car was running down over the hill. The Rockland man, remembering that he had left his engine running rushed to the door, his heart full of misgivings. He was just in time to see his car go heading into the waves and vanish beneath the surface. The cost of getting the automobile back into terra firma ran into three figures, but a valuable lesson had been learned.

Even a newspaper worker can be right sometimes.

The word was "silesia" and knowledge of its correct spelling earned a gift of complete dress material for an early compositor of this paper. The late mother of Mrs. P. J. Good of Camden, observing an advertising sign in a dry goods store at The Brook, caught the word "silesia" and questioned it. The proprietor, sure of his ground he thought, said, "If you can prove that word is misspelled I'll give you enough cloth to make a whole dress." Mrs. Good has a picture of her mother wearing the promised gift.

Fame was brought to a Dublin, Ireland, couple through the birth of quintuplets, but three of the children have already died. Meantime the quintuplets of Callander, Ontario have passed their eighth birthday, and a new record for the world was long since established.

A cartoon in Wednesday's Boston Globe brought to my mind the many young bicycle riders I see nowadays navigating at full speed without taking hold of the handle-bars. The idea is scarcely a new one, for I was doing it myself more than four decades ago, and probably thought as the youth of today may think that I was the discoverer of the art.

Jacket design of "Drivin' Woman"

Drivin' Woman. By Elizabeth Pickett Chevalier. Publishers, The Macmillan Company, New York.

You who read this love story of a Virginia belle of fifty years past will get entertainment and quite a new understanding of this dramatic period that throngs the over long and over worked pages, yet all clearly and cleverly written, painting an honest canvas of a time in our history we are not proud to remember by either north or south.

Elizabeth Pickett Chevalier has given in this really remarkable book the most vivid personality in current fiction in our long list of colonial stories. A novel with pathos, action, sweep of varied intensity. It holds interest with its thrilling dash early days when Boss Tweed the J. Goulds and the Astors were in the front line along with Jubilee Jim Fisk, and life built on the touch and go of Ward McAllister's 400. One feels he is really being tossed in heavy seas, where any minute a bomber may appear, yet one is lost in the pages of this breathless unfolding of high courage in America Monique, the beauty, and brilliant Virginia Belle, whose loyalty to deep love carries her through privations, malice, hatred and ruthless treatment, because she loved with undying devotion, a riverboat gambler with his beauty and personal magnetism that she could not resist. In this story the tobacco industry rise and its influence and speculative effect on industry through the East, dramatic in its entirety.

The book covers the romantic and fascinating, as well as difficult period of the fifty years previous to our present predicament and the fifty years immediately following the Civil War. A masterly work of history and fiction.

The author is an established writer of dignity and intriguing brilliancy. In many lines of action she is well known to the world of thinkers. Her present home is in California. She was born in Chicago but has lived both north and south to digest the atmosphere of all the phases that are intelligently and delightfully handled in this book.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Hiller found out that his high powered mechanized and motorized army bogged down in the snow and mud of the Russian Winter. Although our Army is largely mechanized the cavalry horse is still a highly essential factor in this mounted division and in the Field Artillery. The Army also maintains remount farms where many cavalry horses are bred and raised.

These select horses cost from $100 to $165 and our crack cavalrymen are expert riders and carry on the traditions which have followed the cavalry from the earliest days of the Army. Purchase of War Savings Bonds will insure good mounts for the Cavalry. You and your neighbors buying War Bonds and Stamps regularly every pay day can help buy these horses for the U. S. Cavalry. Nearly 250 young people from Rockland, Thomaston, Warren, Appleton and Union are picking beans at the Hannon lot in Union. Fred C. Black of Black & Gay, Cannons, announced today. Each day some 10 or 15 tons of beans are taken to the cannery in Brooks. Mr. Black said some of the young folks are earning from $3 to $4.50 a day. The company furnishes transportation for the workers to the gardens by company trucks.

Mrs. Ruth Sanborn, a former teacher and supervisor of music in the Rockland schools, has been elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Esther Rogers, it was announced today by Supt. Alden Allen.

Patrons of Witham's Lobster Pound will hail with much satisfaction the official announcement that it will remain open until Labor Day, at least. The resort is enjoying extraordinary popularity for an off season.

Willis R. Vinal of Warren, has entered upon his duties as Knox County Register of Probate, falling into the routine as though always accustomed to it.

Up around the Central Fire Station, the boys are surveying with much interest the new 500-gallon centrifugal U. S. Coast Guard pumper issued to the Rockland Fire Department for emergency use. It is of the trailer rig, and hooks onto the Department's new utility truck.

The Owl's Head Church Fair and chicken pie supper will be held tomorrow with the sale opening at 2 p. m. and supper served at 6.

Harold L. Karl of the John A. Karl Co. is a strong booster for The Courier-Gazette's "for sale" column. On a recent date he advertised 5-gallon oil cans and before the ink was fairly dry, had a customer from far-off Lubec.

Ingraham Family

Despite Tires and Gas 35 Attended the Annual Reunion

The 65th annual reunion of the descendants of Job, Joseph, Josiah, and Nancy Ingraham was held Thursday at Penobscot View Grange Hall in Glen Cove.

A picnic dinner was greatly enjoyed by the 35 members who were present, after which the annual business meeting and informal program was presented.

The nominating committee was composed of Chesley B. Ingraham of Unity, Prand A. Farrand of Rockland and Mrs. Clara I. Whitcomb of Belfast. The following officers were chosen: Frank H. Ingraham of Rockland, president; John W. Ingraham of Knox, vice president; Mrs. Mabel Kallach Rollins of West Somerville, Mass., secretary; Mrs. Susie T. Snow of Rockland, treasurer and Prof. Edwin B. Rollins of West Somerville, Mass., historian.

Oliver P. Ingraham of Rockland was elected as chairman of the committee on arrangements for next year's reunion, with Mrs. Adelia Ingraham of Knox, chairman of the program committee and Miss Jennie E. Crockett of Chelsea, Mass., chairman of the obituary committee.

It was voted to hold next year's reunion at the same place. Mrs. Floyd L. Shaw of Rockland, aged 82, was the oldest present and Miss Mary Alice Ingraham of Knox aged 7, the youngest. Miss Jennie E. Crockett of Chelsea came the farthest distance to be present at the reunion. Due to absence of tires and gas the secretary and treasurer could not be present and Miss Elva M. Ingraham of Unity acted as such.

Greetings were sent to Enos E. Ingraham and Mrs. Sarah Buzzell of Rockport, Prof. and Mrs. Edwin B. Rollins of West Somerville, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Willis Snow of Rockland, who were unable to attend the reunion, and their communications were received from E. S. Ingraham of Augusta, and from Mrs. George W. Leadbetter, Mrs. Leila Hutchinson and Helen Page of Augusta.

The necrology showed that since the last meeting, members lost were Charles F. Ingraham and Charles L. Veazie of Rockport, Joseph C. Ingraham and Grant Turner of Rockland and Mrs. Eunice Tolman Morse of Thomaston.

An informal program was given with the salute to the flag singing of America with Mrs. Frank H. Ingraham at the piano. Recitations were given by Mrs. Annie J. Ingraham of Knox and Frank H. Ingraham of Rockland. A vocal solo "You are My Sunshine," by Miss Mary Alice Ingraham of Knox was much enjoyed. The program closed with the singing of "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again" and the benediction.

Sunday's fire was at the Scott's Transportation Company's headquarters. The Central Fire boys were on the job and the blaze was quickly extinguished.

A conference of Police Identification is being held in Boston at the Hotel Statler this week. Officer Carl A. Christofferson is representing the Rockland force.

Officer Earl Charles is confined to his home by illness. Chief Mansfield handled the beat yesterday.

Grace Hart was in Municipal Court on Monday charged with illegal possession and single sale of intoxicating liquor. She was fined $214.04 and costs and sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Miss Ruth Nichols, who has been in the office of Dr. Burton Flanders has a fine position as Dental assistant to Dr. Thompson of Portland. Miss Nichols has been the guest of her mother over the week-end.

The class of 1913 R.H.S. will not hold its reunion this year.

The field agent who is to help the Rockland Masonic bodies form a Masonic Service Center in this city will be at Rockland Masonic Temple Friday, Aug. 14 at 7:30 to meet the local committee. All interested Masons and club members are urged to be present.

See box at top of page one, this issue, for amazing "Sharp Eyes" contest.

Bean pickers are wanted at once by Black & Gay, Cannons. Good wages are paid and the work is pleasant. Men, women, boys and girls are urgently needed. Must be 11 years old, minimum. The Black & Gay buses and trucks leave the Gulf Station, Park St., every morning at 6:30 sharp. Virginia McCaslin of Rockland was high line picker Sunday, netting $4.50.—adv.

Relief For China

We still lack $194 of reaching our goal of $1000 for Rockland. The money has come in mostly in small gifts, but there have been many of them showing the goodwill and deep interest of the Rockland people. There are also about $32 in unpaid pledges, making 162 more to get, when these are paid, as we hope will be done this week.

Recently our moving pictures of conditions in China were shown in the Bancroft School. Owl's Head, and $16.60 was received to fund the fund, for which we are indeed grateful.

It is a good thing for the people of our country that Americans have supported relief agencies in China for many years, for as a result, has come the friendship which the Chinese feel toward us.

That friendship is of vital importance today in our common struggle against the enemy. Our gifts help to alleviate distress and suffering, and so helps to sustain the morale of these people as they continue to hold firm on their 3800 mile front—the most strategically located bases in the Far East from which the allies may eventually launch their counter attack to victory.

Sustained by the help from Rockland, Camden and other communities, big and little, all over our country, we help renew, not only their faith, but our own that "China shall rise again."

Bishop Huntington, who spent many years in China, who was recently a guest in Camden, said in the closing remarks of his sermon preached in the Episcopal Church, words to this effect: "There is nothing that could be done that would redound more to the glory of God, for patriotism, and humanitarianism, in alleviating the suffering in China, than through our gifts for United China Relief."

We are glad Camden has gone so far over its apportionment—but that won't help us to "balance the budget" in Rockland. Please help the committee to "bring all the titbits into the storehouse" this week.

Money may be sent, or left with the treasurer, Donald Leach at the First National Bank, or given to any of our solicitors, who will give a printed receipt—or left with the chairman at Chinese Relief headquarters, at 185 Main St., next to local bus waiting room.

Names of all donors not yet printed will be published in Friday's Courier-Gazette.

Helen Hyde Carlson, Chairman.

What's Your Favorite Salad?

BY BEULAH V. GILLASPIE
Director, Sealtest Laboratory Kitchen

Courtesy Sealtest Laboratory Kitchen

MOST everyone has a favorite salad recipe. The scope is so wide; the results always good—whether you use fruits, vegetables, meats or just a combination of greens. Since these are salad days, we have developed a couple of ideas here which can be varied in many ways.

FRUIT SALAD

Place slices of pineapple on lettuce or other greens. Around the pineapple place slices of avocado. Garnish with halves of strawberry. Serve with Cream Dressing made as follows:

2½ tablespoons ¼ cup orange juice light corn ½ tablespoon syrup
2 tablespoons ½ lemon juice flour ½ cup thick
¾ teaspoon salt sour cream

Mix the corn syrup, flour and salt until smooth. Stir in the orange juice gradually. Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from the heat, add lemon juice and allow to cool. Fold in the sour cream. This recipe makes about ¾ cup of dressing.

SALAD BOWL

Line a salad bowl with romaine, lettuce or other greens. Fill with rows of vegetables including radish roses, sliced cucumbers, carrot strips, watercress and sliced tomatoes with cottage cheese between the slices. Serve with French or Russian dressing or sour cream.

THE OLD RIVERPORT:
You ask me why I feel so down,
Metting along in this man's town,
About this time, then, if you please,
My god-aunt waters her sweet peas,
Climbing their ben-wire in the sun,
This June morning in Thomaston.
My god-aunt waters her sweet peas,
To put some witchgrass from her own,
Or tying hollyhocks to stakes,
While papa in the driveway rakes,
His new-dumped limberock chips in place.

—Look at me wipe my dripping face!
Ugh, cures on this Washington!
I'd swap it all for Thomaston,
And gladly throw in Chevy Chase.
Why here I use up my strength,
Wiping my sweat, And here the length

Of Summer is not three months, no,
But four! I said of "Summer"—Oh,
A Turkish bath it is, no less!
But there the ocean breezes bless
A land where August is sublime,
Where Summer is the welcome time.

While here the Summer heat is dread,
And summer nights are hell in bed,
But there they are so heavenly,
Only mosquitoes make you see,
You are alive; they have to pounce you
At times, in order to convince you.
Oh, for a landscape cut with mountains
Instead of fancy, man-made fountains!

MRS. ELVIE CURTIS

A period of ill health which covered nearly three years, confining her most of that time to her bed, ended Saturday night when death came to Mrs. Elvie (Miller) Curtis at the home of her son, Clarence M. Curtis, Purchase street. The funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Charles A. Marsteller officiating.

The deceased was a native of Rockland, born June 11, 1864, and daughter of Parker and Abbie (Gram) Miller. She was married 39 years ago to Harrison R. Curtis, who died March 8, 1929. Their name was in South Thomaston for 46 years, since which time Mrs. Curtis had found a happy home and loving care with her son, Clarence. She was employed for a short time in the office of The Courier-Gazette.

Mrs. Curtis was a past matron of Forget-me-not Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star in South Thomaston; had been a member of the First Baptist Church in Rockland for 63 years, and also belonged to Edwin Libby Relief Corps, the Woman's Educational Club and Opportunity Class of the First Baptist Church.

To all of these organizations she gave loyal service finding, next to her family, her greatest happiness in the church and Star. She was intensely devoted to her children, receiving from all of them the deepest love and attention. Her kindly ministrations to the sick and needy are well remembered.

Mrs. Curtis was the last member of a large family. Seven of the eight children born to her mourn her demise—Mrs. Ernest A. Campbell and Mrs. Irene Adolphson, Ervin L. Herbert T. and Clarence M. Curtis of Rockland and Maynard W. and Elmer D. Curtis of Ash Point. Also surviving are 12 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

KEEP 'EM LISTENING

NEVER before in the history of the United States have public entertainers been assigned a greater task. Not only do our stars face the necessity of keeping their fans entertained, but it is even more important that they help to maintain civilian morale in this period of crisis. Among radio favorites who are carrying on through the summer and doing their bit are (1) Kate Smith with her daily "chins up" broadcasts, (2) Betty Winkler, in the role of a girl doctor in "Joyce Jordan," (3) Francis X. Bushman of "Those We Love," (4) Dorothy Kilgallen, famous Broadway columnist with her "Voice of Broadway" broadcasts recounting the activities of the great and near great, (5) Milo Boulton who presents war heroes in person on "We, The People," (6) Betty Worth, as a school teacher in "We Love and Learn," and (7) Tommy Ricks and his invisible but inimitable partner, Betty Lou. They "Keep 'Em Listening."

Gift of Prophecy

A deformed little woman of Yorkshire, Mother Shipton, convinced all England of her gift of prophecy. When the Great Fire spread over London, thousands stood idly by, believing the city's destruction certain for Mother Shipton had foretold it. In rhyme, she prophesied under-river tunnels, tobacco smoking, and horseless carriages before America was colonized.

Sidewalk Trespassing

As the ownership of property on a street extends to the middle of the roadway, both sidewalk and the street are intended only as rights of way for the public, says Collier's. Thus the New York supreme court has held that a man who stops on the sidewalk in front of another's house and shouts abusive and insulting language at him is a trespasser.

First English Slave Trader

Sir John Hawkins was the first Englishman to engage in the slave trade. He came of a seafaring family and eventually as a maritime adventure robbed the Portuguese slaves and then smuggled the slaves he had stolen into the Spanish settlements of the New world. His first successful voyage was in 1562-63.

Chief Source of Revenue

Chief source of revenue in the Bahamas are the tourist trade, sponge growing, sisal cultivations and the production of straw hats and baskets from this plant. Agriculture is rapidly being devoted and there is an increasing production of jewelry from tortoise-shell and sea-shells.

Most Unusual Animal

The duckbill of Australia is sometimes referred to as the strangest of all animals. It has a beak and weblike feet like a duck, but is covered with hair and feeds its young on milk. The male duckbill is the only poisonous mammal in the world.

Colors in Bible

There are about 20 different words denoting color in the Old Testament, but only white, black, blue, purple, red, yellow and green are distinctly named. In the New Testament seven colors are named—white, black, red, purple, green, scarlet and vermilion.

Five Classifications

Telephone subscribers in Sao Paulo, Brazil, are listed in the Red Book under five classifications, according to Collier's. They are listed by name, street address, business or profession, post office box and automobile license number.

Mount Rainier

Mount Rainier, in Washington state, was named after the British admiral, Peter Rainier, who figured in the American Revolution. The name was bestowed by Capt. George Vancouver, English navigator and explorer, in 1792.

The Old Fourth Maine

Got a Great Reception In Boston On Its Way To the Front

The Courier-Gazette is indebted to a former Rockland man, T. Raymond Pierce of Wellesley, Mass., for a copy of the Rockland Gazette dated June 27, 1861, giving the full roster of the Fourth Maine Regiment, which drew so largely from Knox County.
The regimental officers were:
Hiram G. Berry, Colonel.
Thomas F. Marshall, Lieutenant-Colonel.
F. S. Nickerson, Major.

The arrival of the "Knox Regiment" in Boston was thus hailed by the Boston Herald:
"The Cadets escorted the regiment to the Common, where the afternoon was passed away very pleasantly by means of a collation, the joint production of the regimental Quartermaster and the City of Boston, music and fun.—This was the merriest lot of men we have seen on the Common since the war commenced.—They were continually at some 'rough and tumble' games which neither fatigued them or the thousands of laughing spectators.
"Nearly every company had a wag who kept them all in good humor.
The lower part of the Common was enclosed for their accommodation, and those who had friends inside or favor at the gateway were admitted. Outside there were thousands enjoying the fashionable amusement of the time—a military display. This is getting to be an every day affair, and fashionable audiences flock to the Common as they do in the season thereof to balls and the opera. The Common never looked better than in its elegant June dress this year, but the carpet of green on the hills and parade ground is worn gravel bare by the great audiences of late. The Maine boys stacked their arms on Charles street mall, and the Cadets kept guard for them while they ate and rested.
"The Brigade Band was out with the Cadets, and together with the

"Fly The Flag"

Former Rockland Pastor Expresses Loyal Views On a Timely Subject

Winthrop, Mass., Aug. 10
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
As I go about our town I wonder at the few homes where our Flag is in evidence. There are streets which could be named, and too many of them, where only a Flag or two can be seen the entire length of the street. I don't understand it at this particular time.
From every point of view, we have reason now for flying the Stars and Stripes. This Flag stands for, and symbolizes the best form of government, man has ever known. We are at war now to perpetuate this form of government here, and for the manifestation of its principles and ideals throughout the world; ideals which are being challenged by the most brutal, demagogic, and dictatorial leaders of nations beyond the seas.
As a public evidence of our feeling against such leaders of European and Asiatic Nations, the least we can do is to fly our Flag, the glorious Stars and Stripes, than which there is no handsomer, if as handsome, a banner in the world.
I wish every house in the United States of America, would display our Flag right now, in some size, small or large, about its premises.
On a two apartment house on one of our principal streets of Winthrop, I saw ten small Flags waving in the breezes, and I was pleased. But I am not asking the people for such a display on each house.
Citizens of Winthrop, Fly the Flag! Let us see it on or before every public building, Church and store. Fling it out until our beloved town is a riot of color, inspiring other communities to do likewise. Do it now!
[While the above was written primarily for his home town, Mr.
Day's patriotic letter strikes a keynote everywhere.—Ed.]

Rockland Band which accompanied the Maine Regiment, they issued some good notes to pay the visitors for their trouble. They were better than the Confederate bonds. It was enough to make a man wish to 'go for a soldier'—all the pretty faces and the music. There were whole troops of Maine girls about cheering the soldiers and making them more unhappy when they left. A soldier's life is not always gay, but these days were bound to go in and enjoy it as it comes.
"The moments flew away, and at 6 o'clock the regiment was assembled and fell into column by platoons, and marched through Beacon, Park, Tremont, Winter, Summer streets, Harrison avenue, and so on to the Old Colony Depot, where a train of twenty cars was filled.—Here the jubilation continued. John Keller, of Co. B, made himself the centre of an audience wherever he moved. He should be sorry to see his name among the dead or missing, for he is better than a medicine chest in a company.
"The train started without accident at 7:22 o'clock, amid a volley of cheers, the last of which was for the Boston ladies, from the soldiers.
"So endeth the fourth lesson of Maine for the Union. Four thousand of her hearty sons have gone forward, every one of them anxious to see a rebel."

Salvation Army Again at the Front

AMERICA'S FIGHTING MEN in the Asiatic, African, and European combat zones today are coming to the Salvation Army canteen for doughnuts and coffee, just as many of their fathers did in 1917-18, according to Salvationist officers here. This mobile unit (above), at a remote coastal outpost, is one of four serving the Hawaiian Islands. The Army not only has Red Shield clubhouses catering to American forces in Australia, New Zealand, Iceland, and the British Isles, but it operates 74 United Service Organizations centers in 29 states from Maine to California.

FRIENDSHIP

Rev. Victor Osborne and family have returned from a vacation in New Hampshire and Massachusetts. They have as guest for a few weeks, Miss June Strait of New Bedford, Mass.

Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas for August

Washington, D. C., August 5.—While maintaining a tentative annual level of twelve billion dollars as its goal, the Treasury Department today fixed the August quota for the sale of War Bonds at $815,000,000 as shown by the accompanying map by states.
In lowering the quota from a billion dollars in July to $815,000,000 in August, the Treasury has given recognition to certain factors which may be expected to result in variations in sales over the 12-month period, such as the seasonal character of farm income.
These factors have been taken into account in determining each state's share for the national quota for August and will be given consideration in fixing quotas for subsequent months.
In addition to the state quotas as set out in the map there is a federal payroll allotment quota of $9,750,000 and territorial quotas as follows: Alaska, $760,000; Canal Zone, $213,000; Hawaii, $4,800,000; Puerto Rico, $440,000, and the Virgin Islands, $17,000.

ST. GEORGE

Ervin-Kinney

Berton L. Ervin and Louise F. Kinney were married Aug. 1 at the home of the bride, by Rev. Charles A. Marsteller of Rockland. The couple were attended by Miss Mildred Ervin, sister of the groom and Arthur Kinney, brother of the bride.
The bride wore a simple white dress and a corsage of sweet peas. She is the daughter of Mrs. Emma Kinney and the late Rodney Kinney, and is employed at the home of W. L. Robinson.
The groom is the son of Mrs. Russell Reynolds and was employed by the Portland Cement Co. He left Thursday for an Army Camp, following a brief wedding trip to Boothbay Harbor and Bath.

THE HEDGE-ROSE

Lines dedicated to Norman W. Lermond, akin to all those who love the beautiful in Nature, explore its wonders, akin to all those who think and toil for man's welfare in a world that knows no wars, a world in which racial conceits and animosities are wiped out, a world in which men shall be healthy and happy, brothers, prosperous and free.
Angels of beauty planted thee, Thou lovely sweet hedge-rose. Nor painter's brush, nor poet's word. Can all thy charms disclose.
Long country lanes and turn-pike roads. Where'er perchance it grows: It greets us with a friendly smile. This lovely sweet hedge-rose.
It speaks to us its word of cheer. This lovely sweet hedge-rose. We look at it and for a time. Forget our wars and woes.

ON THE OFFENSIVE AMERICA!

Wars are won by attacking, not by sitting in a fort!
And today America is taking the offensive against the Axis with hard-fighting, non-stopable men and materials!
We're taking the offensive, too, against the enemy at home—the inflationary 6th column that blows prices sky high.
You can help in both fights by saving at least 10% of your money in U. S. War Bonds every pay day. Attack the Axis with your dollars today.
You can start with as little as a 10c War Stamp and you can get a $25.00 War Bond (maturity value) for only $18.75—at your local post office, bank or other convenient sales agency.

The Memory Man

Tells of Six High School Misses Who Should Have Been Spanked

(By Iree Member)
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—"Information, Please!" "I want to know" who sent me the letter below as I am "stumped" completely.
"Boston, Mass., July 24. Dear friend Iree: Am sending you this picture, cut from Life Magazine, which I am sure you will like. It carries me back to the concerts your band gave at Oakland Park in the gay Nineties and the dances held later in the evening at the Pavilion.
"We never miss one of your articles in The Courier-Gazette and enjoy them very much—especially the one in the July 21 issue. Keep up the good work! It's tops with us. Respectfully yours, The Thin Man and wife."
Iree would be less human than he if a letter like that failed to tickle his mental ribs quite some, but, the identity of the writer has me in a corner. The picture referred to is a fine one of the U. S. Marine Band and the formation is a "V" for victory. The band uniforms are white trousers, maroon coats, with fancy braid much in evidence, while the caps are white with a dark visor—probably blue. (Red, white and blue).
The letter and picture were mailed from Wollaston, Mass. Hal (who used to play a mean tuba) lives in Wollaston and helps run a bank in Boston during banking hours, but the last time I saw him he was not "thin." Friend George lives in Walpole, Mass., so it can't be he. Well, I give up—I'd like to get a lot of letters like the above, however, and I won't be particular whether the writer is "thin," or so fat he can't waddle!
Thanks for the fine picture. "Thin Man and Wife" and thanks a lot more for the kind words. Such letters help old Iree. When a fellow writes stuff that is of enough interest to prompt someone to write and say so it is encouraging and bolsters the morale of the old typewriter! I hereby frankly state that I am neither a draft nor a bouquet dodger—let 'em come—the slap of a bouquet on the chin doesn't hurt, I won't dodge!
I have in stock many memories to offer but think I will sidetrack them this time in order to hand the "big rubber" to them down the wrist. I have been steering some sort of a gas vehicle through traffic for close to a quarter of a century and have never even scratched anything moving or stationary on date, but I am free to state that my clean driving record is not due to carefulness on the part of some drivers and certainly not on the part of some pedestrians, who, with a fine sidewalk to walk on, persist in walking in the path of traffic.
Some of them really seem to invite disaster and care not at all if a car has to be stopped entirely to avoid running them down, even when a long line of cars are compelled to slow, or stop entirely, rather than to move aside to let cars pass. At the risk of rousing the ire of some pedestrians and ruffling the defiant, insolent nature of a few of them, I make bold to say that, in some instances, the placing of themselves in the path of traffic smacks of deliberate intent.
I know a case, where or when, six High School girls (not in Rockland) strung themselves clear across the street, arms across each others' shoulders and strolled nonchalantly in the street while car horns tooted in vain for a chance to proceed. I chanced to be the head car and with the engine in "low" crept along behind those darned girls for several rods, tooting and shouting lustily "get out of the road and walk on the sidewalk." Toot, toot, toot. "Let us pass, please."
Perhaps some of the exasperated drivers shaded their remarks with, well, I distinctly heard one driver shout something that sounded like "naughty, naughty," and another driver must have known the name of one of the girls for he shouted, "get Nell out of the road" several times. What he said sounded like that anyway.
After my horn tooting darn near ran the battery down and my voice getting feeble, one of the unspanked (but should have been) darlings designed to turn her pretty head and snarl in a very defiant and insolent treble "we hear you!" and in due, (no, overdue) time, the six little sweethearts moved slowly, gracefully, but grudgingly to one side and made room, but no more than room, for the leech gnashing drivers to pass the female barricade and proceed angrily on their several ways.
Was I one of the angry? Well, when I was tooting the horn behind them I did feel slightly exasperated but as soon as I got away from the tangled barrier of feminine sweetness and realized that I was free, I began to laugh. The idea of six blessed little idiots stringing their physical charms across the highway and stopping traffic at the risk of having their persons mangled and strewn promiscuously all over the place seemed so fantastic that I had to laugh, and I am still laughing, but, I still believe that those six darlings should have been soundly spanked.
I could tell of many other personal experiences along this line. Only last week I was one of several drivers waiting for the green light in a city of about 6,000 inhabitants. After the green gave the go signal the pedestrians continued to walk unconcernedly and without even glancing up while horns tooted and when we inched up to the line it was quite a task to persuade the stream of pedestrians to let us inch our way through without running over somebody's feet.
Careless drivers? Yes, there are too many of them on the road but compared to the great number of safe, careful drivers the percentage is very small. The same can be said in regard to careful, level-headed pedestrians, but, there is room for much more improvement in the care exercised by pedestrians and there will be fewer accidents when all pedestrians learn to co-operate with careful drivers and cease defying the traffic regulations and divert their attitude of that "run over me if you dare" complex. ## How to make your car last a lot longer

Five neighbors, with only 6,000 miles left on their tires, can, by taking turns driving, each ride 30,000 miles before any re-treading is necessary. Start or join a driving club today and save precious tires.
Don't bump into or scrape curbs. Check pressure weekly. Thirty per cent under-inflation reduces tire mileage 50 per cent. Drive "tor less." Avoid "squeaking" on turns... many extra tire miles will result.

Visit a Pontiac dealer at least once a month for a wheel alignment check. A wheel one-half inch out of line will drag a tire sideways 87 feet in every mile. Have him switch tires every 4,000 miles, too.

Pontiac's FREE "Motor Doctor" inspection prevents little troubles from becoming costly repairs. Regular inspection by your Pontiac dealer is the cheapest way to preserve something you can't replace until the war is won.

Warren Alumni

Honored Frank D. Rowe and Mrs. Vinal, Retiring From School Work

Frank D. Rowe, retired superintendent of the Union Warren and Matineus School Union, and Mrs. Willis R. Vinal, resigned teacher of music in Warren schools, after 15 years of service, were honored Thursday at the annual meeting of the Warren High School Alumni Association held jointly with the Woman's Club.

Mr. Rowe received a purse containing a dollar for every year of his service of 35 years in the Warren school system, this gift of the Alumni Association, presented by Mrs. Inez Mathews, retired teacher. Miss Shirley Castner, teacher for 20 years in Warren schools, presented to Mrs. Vinal, a necklace from the school committee and the teacher.

Corsage bouquets of sweet peas were presented to Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. Vinal, and Mrs. William Cunningham, the latter the president of the Woman's Club. Assisting in the presentation of these corsages was Joan Mathews, granddaughter of Mrs. Mathews, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mathews. She was dressed in pink ruffled organdy, with blue flower motif, and trimmed with a black velvet bow. The corsages were made by Mrs. Abbott Spear.

Alumni officers elected are: Frank D. Rowe, president; Willis R. Vinal, vice president; Miss Bertha Starrett, secretary; William H. Robinson, treasurer; executive committee, Sidney Copeland, Miss Tena McCallum, Mrs. Ruby Kallough, Mrs. Lula Cunningham, Sidney Vinal, Phillip Simmons, and Mrs. Helen Borneman.

Mr. Rowe read the list of Warren boys who are in the armed forces.

Mrs. Cunningham called the meeting to order, and the flag salute and singing of one stanza of the National Anthem followed. Then the meeting was turned over to Mr. Rowe, president of the Alumni Association.

A well balanced program was given, with these numbers: Violin solos, "Kashmir Song," and "Mighty Lak A Rose" by Willis Berry; vocal duet, "Daylight Will Come," Chester Wylie and Charles Wilson; paper, "The Original Baptist Church Building," Miss Tena McCallum; "Light and Life Immortal," and "I Love to Tell the Story," by Mrs. Sidney Wylie, Mrs. Albert Burdick, Mrs. Clark French, Mrs. Leroy Norwood, Mrs. Harold Drewett, and Mrs. Willis Vinal; paper on "The First Congregational Church Building" by Mrs. French; vocal duet, Mrs. Norwood and Chester Wylie.

Greeting to the Alumni was read by Ansel M. Hilt, from Dr. A. W. Plummer, 92, oldest living principal of Warren High School, who taught 1877 to 1899, and who now resides in Los Angeles. Six of his former students were present: Ansel M. Hilt, Mrs. Alice Gordon, Mrs. George Newbert, and Mrs. Sadie Barrows of Warren; Mrs. Sidney Packard of Camden, and Mrs. Delia Hayes of Somerville, Mass. Graduates of the first three years that the school was established as a free high school, were present: Mrs. John MacDonald, 1875, Miss Eliza Swan, 1876, and Mrs. Sidney Packard, of Camden, 1877.

Accompanists for the musical part of the program were Mrs. Chester Wylie, Mrs. Roland Berry, and Miss Verna Robinson. Leader of the community sing was Chester Wylie.

Refreshments were served under the direction of Miss Muriel French and Mrs. S. A. Watts, assisted by the executive committee of both organizations, and other members. ## Nurses Are Wanted

For Service With Maine Unit 67th General Hospital, U. S. A.

The Maine Unit, 67th General Hospital, United States Army, is still considerably short of the required number of nurses.

The Unit needs 50 more nurses by Aug. 15. The Unit is to be activated on Sept. 1. Maine has enrolled but 14.6 percent of its eligible Red Cross nurses.

The private duty nurse is regarded as the one who can be spared. Yet less than 10 percent of these eligible nurses have responded.

Nurses accepted will be commissioned second Lieutenants. Those who desire to serve as requested to write to First Lieutenant Irene L. Zwisler, care of the First Service Command, 908 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass., or care of Central Maine Hospital, Lewiston, or care of the Maine General Hospital, Portland.

Follow The Trend

Rockland League of Women Voters

More Americans not only vote in the 34 State primaries between July 14 and Sept. 15 than ever before, but they will give more attention to their ballots for Congress than ever before, if the National League of Women Voters has its way.

League members from New York to California have cancelled all summer furloughs to engage in a nationwide campaign to enlist the "best" men for Congress. Conquering Primary Day apathy is but a preliminary skirmish leading up to the main objective: To see that a Congress is elected in November "which is capable of winning the war and the peace to follow."

"Ballots count as well as bullets." "If freedom is worth fighting for it is worth voting for." and "The election is your affair" are among the slogans the League has adopted to underscore the significance of the primary as the election in which the first important choice of Congressional candidates will be made.

"Food For Victory"

Farmers Should Place Orders For Help With Employment Service

No crops will spoil in Maine this year because of lack of harvest hands if farmers and available labor join in the plans of the United States Employment Service to accomplish the "Food for Victory" campaign.

That is the message received by C. D. Jilison, manager of the United States Employment service office at 401 Main street. One big "if" is stressed, however. The success of the plan depends primarily upon the extent to which farmers themselves take advantage of the U.S.E.S. plans by placing orders for the necessary workers sufficiently in advance with their nearest U. S. Employment Service office.

"Whether we have the workers for the farmers depends, first and foremost, upon the farmers themselves. Unless they tell the United States Employment Service how many workers they need and when they will need them, we simply cannot be positive of our ability to produce the needed farm labor," Mr. Hardy's message stressed.

Farmers in many sections have "lagged" in placing such orders, the New England Director said in urging that the reservoir of farm labor built up by the registration of young people and older men and women earlier this Summer be utilized.

made. Those slogans are appearing throughout the length and breadth of the land on League bulletins, roadides, billboards, bus cards, voting information booths, and placards.

At the same time League members are interviewing Congressional candidates, distributing Congressmen's records in their own territories, analyzing and interpreting their attitudes on national policy and domestic issues for the benefit of the voting public.

The church is not here to follow the spirit of the age, but to control and direct it, often to struggle against it.—Dr. Brownson.
